This Tuesday, the 19th, a new extraordinary session of the Honorable Deliberative Council of Mar Chiquita was held after the frustrated debate of last week. This time there was a quorum and after some modifications in the two main projects, they were voted in a positive way.

The Agenda also included other topics that were approved, such as: the regularization of debt for 2021, which was approved unanimously, as well as the change of coverage of the Eustaquio Aristizábal municipal hospital.

In addition, the validation of the agreement on the Coronel Vidal beer plant and canning plant was voted on – the Mayor ordered the termination of a contract by decree. As a result of the debate, the project was approved by a majority with 10 votes in favor and 4 abstentions.

The curious thing about the vote was that the councilor of the Radical Civic Union, Mariano Filipi, did not support the decision of the UCR-PRO interbloc, which abstained and supported the ruling party, which already had an agreement with Velazquez and Orlandini (Civic Coalition - ARI) to approve the project.

Regarding the sale of lots to the Iwoka firm and after some modifications to the original document, it was approved by a majority with 10 votes in favor and 4 abstentions. Once again, Mariano Filipi did not support the decision of the UCR-PRO interblock, which abstained. He voted with the ruling party, as did the opposition interblock composed of Valeria Velázquez and Eduardo Orlandini.

For its part, the sale of land to the Mundo Branco fishmeal factory in Vivorata was approved by the 9 positive votes of the 7 councilors of the Frente de Todos Bloc and the opposition councilors Velázquez and Orlandini. Filipi abstained, while Oscar Flores, Vanina Reyes, Alejandra Di Fiori and Julio Ruggiero were against.

Finally, requests for reports prepared by the Juntos por el Cambio bloc were received on: the Vivorata Health Unit, the Pirán landfill and the ordinance on food trucks, all of which were approved unanimously.

Regarding the most important issues of the session, the president of the Civic Neighborhood Coalition ARI block, Valeria Velázquez, spoke on the air of Búnker 91.9 FM and highlighted that “within the Council, administrative matters are dealt with and certain formalities are fulfilled. These formalities were not fulfilled at the time when there was no quorum. We were going to have a terrible error and a problem for the municipality because one of the sales (of the property to IWOKA) lacked a requirement, which was to cancel an ordinance or try to terminate a previous contract.”

And he said: “We needed the justification of why the sale is being made – the organic law does not allow direct sales – we had the commitment and the letter from the mayor for the direct sale that is being made due to the economic emergency we are in until tomorrow and that will be extended until May. Then there were other requirements that we have asked for because there were other requirements that we have asked for because a lot of things were missing from the file, that was what changed, simply that the file is complete.”
