Kuril residents: we have an ecological disaster

Fish are washed ashore, birds' feathers are matted

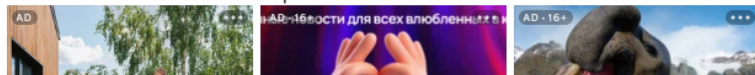

Shikotan residents are sounding the alarm - there is nothing to breathe in the Malokuril'skaya and Krabovaya bays, fish are washed up on the shore, birds cannot fly. Kuril residents blame the fish industry.

"Ships come to the Malokuril'skaya Bay to the fish processing plant, hand over the fish, wash the holds and dump everything into the sea. The stench is unreal - to the point of gagging. The organs are silent. And this is already an ecological disaster. There is a greasy film near the shore, the fish are dying, the birds are not afraid of people - they simply cannot escape - they cannot fly. The situation in Krabovaya Bay is a little different - there is also a stench there, but because the shore is strewn with waste from another plant - the entire water's edge is in rotting fish heads. Shikotan's status as a nature reserve and a nature reserve has not changed, protective measures should only be strengthened, but no one seems to see what is happening on the island," Shikotan residents told astv.ru.

The editorial staff sent the video filmed in the Kuril Islands to the Sakhalin Region Ministry of Ecology. They reported: "The video materials contain signs of gross violation of environmental legislation.

The marine area is an object of federal state environmental supervision. The Ministry of Ecology has sent information on this fact to the Far Eastern Interregional Department of Rosprirodnadzor, the Sakhalin-Kuril Territorial Department of Rosrybolovstvo and the prosecutor's office of the South Kurilsky District for taking measures within their competence."

ASTV will monitor the development of the situation.

Predatory sharks of private business, they eat like crazy and don't care about the environment! Should we call VVP for help again? Until the Kremlin gives us a kick, we'll have what we have?!

Boris, What does sexual intercourse have to do with it? Are you a wet dreamer of puberty with a roof tilted at sex?! 😊

Are you still hoping for the Kremlin? It all started with the Kremlin, the fish is rotting from the ground. The country is collapsing from there - Shikotan is a consequence. One of many troubles. Throw this government to hell!

We should not sit on our asses, but go out to rallies. The Kuril Islands are our Sakhalin Region! And they are being destroyed, drowned, and now we will remain silent again, swallow them.

The Kuril residents themselves will be able to do little, given their small numbers, and therefore they are turning and trumpeting to the Sakhalin residents for help.

We need to get together and really do something, fight, and not turn into cotton wool.

Moi2kota , What, like in Ukraine we'll use Maidan to reduce the country to dust, or like in Belarus we'll rock it?! Are you sure you want this?!

evgenytolich , no, you personally are sitting on your ass. Others will do everything for you. This is probably your style.

Moi2kota , you know, I drove around the country by car - from Crimea, through St. Petersburg and to Sakhalin. Not everything is so bad.

Well, damn. This situation did not happen yesterday or even a week ago. How much has been said already - you saw a violation (problem), report it. Why sit and wait until it accumulates into a whole ecological disaster. Was it really impossible to report these violations in a timely manner, why wait until the fish start to be thrown out.

Strange. Is it really impossible to process waste into flour? Such flour is an excellent fertilizer for agriculture. In Soviet times, they were chasing it, there was a shortage. And now no one is engaged in the reproduction of marine waste?

ElenaDO, you have to invest money in this, and the fish industry is now a grabber, or they sense something, they are raking in the fish like it's their last time, ignoring all environmental and legislative norms.
