

"Urla fish facilities should not become a garbage dump"

The court annulled the 'EIA Not Required' decision given for the 'Fish silage and fish oil and fish flour production facility' project, which is an addition to the fish processing facility operated by Güven Balık Üretim between Zeytinler and Uzunkuyu villages in Urla.

In Izmir , an additional "fish silage, fish oil and fish flour production facility" is planned to be built in addition to the fish processing facility operated by Güven Balık Üretim between the Zeytinler and Uzunkuyu villages of Urla . Due to the damages caused by the active facility to the region, citizens are fighting for the additional facility not to be built .

Citizens won the case they filed against the decision of the Ministry of Environment and Urbanization that EIA is not required for the additional facility . The decision of 'EIA is not required' was annulled by the Izmir 2nd Administrative Court , considering the damage it would cause to the region and human health .

The court decision stated that "The emission of dust and particles in the air that will occur during the grinding process of dried fish bones, skulls and fish waste will cause problems for human breathing. In the future , it will cause lung cancer or some allergic diseases such as COPD in the workers working here." The decision emphasized that the project is close to olive groves and said, " Since it is seen that the purpose is to prevent the construction and operation of facilities that release chemical waste , produce dust and smoke or have the possibility of causing the negative results listed, there is no legal compliance in the EIA Not Required decision."

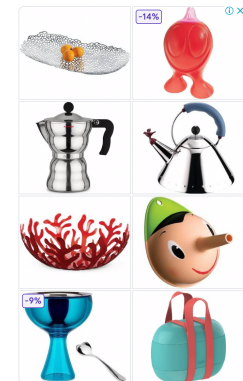

The lawyer of the case, Şehrazat Mercan, said, "There is no development target with industrial and polluting facilities. For this reason, tuna and fish farms in our seas, and facilities where these will be processed or are being processed on our coasts and land should never be given EIA Not Required, EIA Positive or planning permission approval procedures. I hope we will remove the current facility from there as well. Because Urla will develop with agriculture and tourism, protecting its ecological assets, not with such industrial and heavily polluting facilities. Urla should not become a dumping ground for fish facilities."

"JOURNALISTS IN IZMIR SHOULD BE RELEASED"

Reporters Without Borders (RSF) representative Erol Önderoğlu said, "We are consoled by the decision to release our journalist friend in Istanbul. We also demand the immediate release of our colleagues who were detained in Izmir as a result of a tremendous injustice and are spending their fourth day in detention. Journalism cannot be touched!"

Önderoğlu said: "The mass release of journalists, like the mass arrests, has once again revealed the importance of professional solidarity and brought to light the deliberate and scandalous targeting of journalism and its social role. This is unacceptable! We also demand the release of our colleagues in Izmir."

PROTEST HELD IN IZMIR

Journalists in Izmir came together in Cumhuriyet Square and said, "Journalism is not a crime." The action was organized with the call of Izmir Journalists Association (IGC), Turkish Journalists Union (TGS), Press Freedom and Media Research Association (BAMAD), Contemporary Journalists Association (ÇGD) and Turkish Photojournalists Association (TFMD) and journalists were supported. Izmir Metropolitan Municipality Mayor Cemil Tugay also attended the statement.

In statements made by professional organizations, messages of support were sent to journalists and the release of those in custody was demanded.

RELEASE DECISION FOR 7 JOURNALISTS

A decision was made to release the journalists AFP reporter Yasin Akgül, IMM photo reporter Kurtuluş Arı, NOW News reporter Ali Onur Tosun, Zeynep Kuray, Hayri Tunç, Gökhan Kam and Bülent Kılıç, who were arrested 2 days ago (March 25) for covering the Saraçhane protests.

CHP Chairman Özgür Özel made a statement following the Party Assembly and the closed Parliamentary Group meeting.

Özgür Özel said in his statement, "According to our party's bylaws, our group of deputies could propose at least 20 deputies. Ekrem İmamoğlu, who won the title of candidate with the proposal of many of our deputies, received the votes of 1 million 653 thousand 887 out of our 1 million 750 members in the CHP ballot boxes in the elections held on March 23. He received the votes of 13 million 844 thousand 70 citizens through solidarity ballot boxes."

Özel continued as follows: "He became the winner of the primary election by receiving a total of 15 million 497 thousand 957 votes and was voted on today in our Party Assembly to be reported to our
